

Important – Please read this information carefully before you complete the request. Once you have completed your request we strongly advise that you keep a copy for your records.

Your rights

You have a right to request access to your own personal information under the Privacy Act 1988 (the Privacy Act). Under the Freedom of Information Act 1982 (the FOI Act) you can also access copies of documents (except exempt documents) held by the Department of Immigration and Border Protection (the department) and other Australian Government departments.

The department will attempt to release the information in line with our open and accountable culture. If your request can be processed under the Privacy Act, it will either be processed by the FOI team or sent to the relevant business area of the department, to be completed within 30 days.

Where your request is likely to be complex or take longer than 30 days we will process your request under the FOI Act. At any time you can ask for your request to be treated as a request under the FOI Act. Please note, where we are able to process your request under the Privacy Act and you inform the department that you would like the request to be actioned under the FOI Act, the legislative timeframe under the FOI Act will commence from that date.

Where the department is unable to provide access to documents under the Privacy Act, your application will be taken to be a request for access under the FOI Act from the date that your request is received by the department.

Access to your personal information under the Privacy Act

Under the Privacy Act you may obtain original documents which you have given to us or copies of personal documents on your file which you have provided to us or that we have sent to you.

You can contact your current departmental case officer or any office of the department and ask for your documents. For a list of offices please check the department's website at www.immi.gov.au. However, if the documents you seek are not located at that office you may be asked to complete this form or put your request in writing. If your request relates to the documents or personal information of another person, you may need to make a request under the FOI Act.

The Privacy Act requires that the department responds to requests for access to personal information within 30 days. Further information is contained in form 1442i Privacy notice.
